Japanese Officials Dodge Responsibility For Ichang Air Raids

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8.—Confirmed by reluctance of the Japanese army and navy to accept responsibility for Sunday's air raids at Ichang, in which a Canadian was wounded, British authorities today sought information wherever obtainable to establish the identity of the attackers.

Naval authorities denied yesterday that their aircraft raided Ichang, more than 1,000 miles up the Yangtze, where two British steamships were destroyed with the death of four crewmen and injury to five, including H. J. Dwyer, a Canadian seaman.

In authoritative quarters it was reported today that army authorities likewise had denied responsibility for the raids. An army spokesman said yesterday that he had "no information," but "if it happened it is a regrettable mistake."

Liberals To Honor Premier King at Big Dinner Tonight

The Prime Minister, here for the banquet tonight when nearly 4,000 of his supporters will observe the 50th anniversary of his election as Liberal party leader, was guest of the Corporation of Toronto at a luncheon in the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

"No one can say what the future holds in store for us," the Prime Minister said. "But I can say that I am away from me the enjoyment and the satisfaction I have had in 40 years of public life."

RESPONDS TO TOAST
Responding to a toast proposed by Mayor Ralph Day, the Prime Minister spoke at some length on the association he and his family have had with Toronto. The majority of Mr. Mackenzie King's cabinet colleagues and some of the guests attended the luncheon.

Necessary reforms could best be brought about by slow development and not by the quick, radical and almost revolutionary changes which seemed to be the goal of some of the younger candidates for public service, said the prime minister.

"Government is not a business nor a science," the prime minister said. "It is the art of so organizing human society that its members may live and work together for common good."

Mayor Ralph Day said the luncheon had been arranged with thought of politics, but to honor a political leader who has taken away from us a student at the University of Toronto.

Mayor Day told the gathering that "Canada is at the crossroads and must progress along the path of true democracy to reach 'our common heritage and destiny which is rightfully ours.'"

"We are fortunate in Canada and in our Empire that men of the calibre of our distinguished guest can be found who are willing to offer their services to the state and strong enough to withstand the rigors of parliamentary campaigns," Mr. Day said.

HINT OF FALL FELT HERE AS MERCURY FALLS

That crisp, frosty edge was on the air again Tuesday morning to remind early rising Edmontonians that Fall is not far ahead.

Although the mercury didn't drop to the same level it touched Monday, it was only one degree over. It read for a brief period around 6:30 a.m. at the 38th level.

Sidelights On Jap-Anglo Dispute

The drama of the clash of imperialism Japan and Great Britain with its vast colonial state, is the back drop for the diplomatically astute smiles of British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie, right, and Japanese Foreign Minister Hirota as they meet in Tokyo for one of a series of conferences on the critical Far East situation.

Civilians Soldiers

While diplomatic conferences between Britain and Japan proceed, a Japanese patrol boat, right, with anti-aircraft guns, cruises the Hal H. Hoyer at critical Tientsin, with the British gunboat, H.M.S. Sandwich, in the background. And left, another phase of the Japanese pressure for exclusive authority in the consular area of China: Chinese jam against barred wire barricades, awaiting examination by Japanese soldiers before being admitted to foreign consulates.

GOVERNMENT IS STUDYING DATE OF ELECTION

Stony Plain Seat Will Be Filled By September 30

Date of the Stony Plain provincial constituency by-election, to fill the legislative seat left vacant by the death of W. E. Hayes, Social Credit member, is likely to be held in the near future, government, it was learned in reliable circles on Tuesday. The by-election is to be held by Sept. 30, or within six months of the next general election.

In the event of a provincial general election being called before the by-election date, then no by-election would be held.

With a general election due in the late autumn, next year, there is a possibility that the by-election will be held in the autumn of next year, although the government has given no indication that it will do so.

NIGHT PASS UP

In some quarters it is felt that as only one session would be held without a member from that constituency, it might be better to pass up the by-election and thus effect a saving of, probably, between $2,000 and $4,000.

Speculation is rife as to who will carry the Social Credit banner in next year's election.

Several possible candidates have been mentioned, among them are Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry. He sits for Calgary and has been active in the past. He also has been mentioned as a possible Edmonton candidate.

Following Mr. Hayes' death, the Social Credit organization at Stony Plain called a resolution requesting Premier William Abernethy to appoint Mr. Manning as the contact minister for the constituency, until a member is elected.

At the time this resolution was passed, some Social Crediters urged that Mr. Manning be nominated as the premier.

JAPAN HALTS IN DECISION TO RIDE WITH AXIS

TOKYO, Aug. 8.—Military and civilian leaders of Japan wrestled today with the problem of Japanese relations to the Axis-Germany war. The "inner cabinet," consisting of Premier Kishino Hirotsuna, the war, navy, foreign and finance ministers, discussed the issue for five hours without announcing any agreement.

The five-minister conference examined the European situation but failed to reach a conclusion. The five key members of the cabinet will make a further study of the matter.

Prime Minister Kishino Hirotsuna, who is in charge of the cabinet, is expected to announce his decision today.

Further Declines In Saskatchewan Crops

REGINA, Aug. 8.—Hot, dry weather during the past two weeks has caused a further decline in Saskatchewan crop prospects, said a report issued today by the provincial department of agriculture.

In some southern districts a commercial crop will be harvested, the report said. In the western portion of the south central district crops are still fair to good, and similar prospects still obtain in the northern and north-western districts.

Indian Reserve Goes To White Man; Nedelec Band Seeks New Homes

LAZERE SAYS LACK OF FUNDS BIG HINDRANCE

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The Indians of the Nedelec band, situated on the northern shore of Lake Huron, have to find themselves new homes. Nine thousand acres of land have been offered to them by the federal government.

The Indians, however, are not being disposed of. They voted unanimously for the white man.

The settlement provides that any of the Indian families wishing to live on their own land should be entitled to regular salary treatment, and kept qualified for clearing purposes and all other privileges accorded settlers under colonization legislation.

Presidential Address Delivered To Canadian Teachers' Federation

LAZERE SAYS LACK OF FUNDS BIG HINDRANCE

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—President M. E. Lazere, of Edmonton, today told the Canadian Teachers' Federation that the "People of Canada have a respect for education but it is respect which, in many ways, is divorced from the willingness to pay for services rendered."

In his presidential address at the opening of general sessions, the federation heard that a lack of funds was one of the greatest handicaps to the teachers' movement.

AUSTRALIA TO BACK BRITAIN IN EVENT WAR

Dominion Will Make Common Cause With Her, Prime Minister Says

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 8.—Prime Minister Bennett said last night that "it is inevitable that in an European war we will be involved in the pursuit of her present policy Australia will make common cause with her."

The prime minister referred to a statement published last Thursday in the National Zeitung of Vienna, a newspaper of Field Marshal Hermann Goerring, to the effect that almost the entire empire would go to Britain's aid in event of war.

The National Zeitung asserted that Australia would make "some gesture on behalf of London," but claimed that if the conflict extended to the Pacific she "will try to keep out of the line of fire. Whether she can do so, however, depends not on Australia or England, but on the attitude of certain opponents."

Commonwealth To Co-Operate in War

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Proof that the British Commonwealth will co-operate in times of war was given by the Daily Herald (Labor) today in Prime Minister Menzies' statement that Australia will go to Great Britain's aid if Britain's present policy involves her in a European conflict.

Commenting on Nazi assertions of weakness in British Empire ties, the newspaper said editorially: "Critics are led astray because there is no signed agreement amongst the members of the Commonwealth. Others make contact one with another. They bind themselves to nothing. The reason is simple: that clever people sometimes cannot understand it. Brothers and sisters do not need to make pacts with one another. They belong to the same family."

Long Arm Of Law Is Reaching To High Places

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8.—Reached high among political heirs of the late Huey P. Long, the United States government Monday indicted Richard Leche, former governor of Louisiana, on a charge he profited by $57,000 through illegal oil operations.

Named with Leche and accused of making an identical suit through evasion of oil production regulations, was Seymour Weiss, New Orleans hotel owner and one-time financial right-hand man of the late "Kingfish" Fred Goetz, a wealthy Dallas, Tex., oil man and the East Texas Refining Company, also were indicted in this transaction.

New Search May Be Conducted For Kingsford-Smith

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 8.—A new search for traces of Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, last off the coast of Burma in 1935, may be made by the new English-made Royal Australian Air Force Short Sunderland "flying fortresses" on their way to Australia for delivery.

The Australian minister for civil aviation said he was making this suggestion to the defense minister. Finding of a wheel from Smith's plane on the southwest coast of Burma, near Aye Island, in June, 1937, is said to have indicated his plane crashed in that region. Subsequent search in this locality also revealed traces of a plane crashing through trees near the edge of precipitous cliffs.

Lac La Ronge Park To Be New Saskatchewan Recreational Centre

REGINA, Aug. 8.—Establishment of Lac La Ronge Park as Saskatchewan's newest and largest recreational centre was announced by Hon. W. F. Keir, minister of natural resources.

It is the lake that has more than 1,000 islands and is commonly referred to by D. A. Hall, M.L.A., who resides on the edge of the lake as the lake of the 10,000 islands.

Arrangements have been made to curtail commercial fishing in the lake this season and to completely close the lake to commercial fishing after this year.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 8.—Members of the Canadian Legion are not so strong or so vigorous as when they enlisted for three years service 25 years ago, "but we are mentally alert and ready as of old to offer the best that is in us to the service of King and country," Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions and national health, said here last night.

Addressing the annual convention of the Ontario command of the Legion, Major Power said: "We veterans are ready, if necessary, to support that new legion which should be organized here, which should be organized here, which should be organized here."

Col. H. R. Alley, Ontario president, told the convention tonight that an elector who is bribed by a "glass of beer or a pat on the back" to vote for a candidate for office is unworthy to live in a democracy.

Delegates were told by Col. W. F. Foster of Vancouver, Dominion president, that more than 60,000 war veterans have enrolled for national service work. He said it is not a question of whether or not a situation should arise wherein the ideal of liberty is threatened, we could not remain indifferent."

In a resolution, the convention urged the Dominion government to ban export of raw materials and supplies which would be an aggressor nation. Wealth as well as manpower should be mobilized in time of war, it was urged in another resolution.

VANCOUVER TO PUT PROPERTY OUT OF REACH

Covenant Provides Orientals May Not Become Owners

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8.—A "covenant" whereby residential and other properties now owned by the city of Vancouver would be permanently out of reach of Oriental buyers, was suggested in civic license and properties committee Monday.

Alderman H. D. Wilson, Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart was asked to determine feasibility of the suggestion. Ald. Wilson said he had found that certain property here owned by the Joe Martin estate, was protected by a covenant prohibiting sale or rental to Orientals, and suggested that the city keep its properties for sale to residents by arranging a similar agreement with the British Columbia government land registry office.

Once given the lead, Ald. Wilson said, "private citizens in numbers would make a similar stipulation against sale to Asiatics when disposing of properties."

The alderman also said he feels the next step should be taken to restrict Orientals to their own districts, "unless we can get rid of them entirely." He said that the city at present has no definite powers of restriction.

Ballot Replaces Strike As Means of Settling Auto Industry Disputes

DETROIT, Aug. 8.—The ballot superseded the strike Monday as the instrument for settling labor disputes in the automobile industry.

While the idle cops in the giant General Motors machine began turning again with the end of the Congress of Industrial Organizations' Skilled Workers' strike, the projected auto plant employee elections by the labor board commanded the scene.

A. F. L. GIVES CONSENT

The American Federation of Labor-United Auto Workers formally declined to oppose the election of the Packard Motor Car company, which has been petitioned by the rival C.I.O.-United Auto Workers, and then on its own asked for a similar poll among employees of General Motors' plants throughout the country.

The move came as a surprise inasmuch as the U.A.W.-A.F.L. had earlier indicated opposition to such polls, contending the dispute between the two unions should be settled by Circuit court litigation, now pending.

Irvin Curry, vice-president of the U.A.W.-A.F.L., said the union had also adopted a policy favoring N.L.R.B.-ordered polls in plants of Briggs Manufacturing company, Chrysler Corporation, and the Motor Products company.

UNION'S NEW POLICY

The union's new policy, according to Curry, "is to see that the government permits the workers in the plants by secret ballot to choose their collective bargaining agency without intimidation or coercion from any source, rather than being driven into the C.I.O. by Goon (strong arm) squad veterans of the Communist party."

MADRID, Aug. 8.—Spanish newspapers point to the swift execution during the past three days of 62 persons as a warning that all plots and conspiracies against the Nationalist government would be "inexorably crushed."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Roosevelt pronounced the objectives of his defeated 1937 Court Reorganization Bill fully attained last night.

He said attacks on the supreme court by "ultra-conservative members of the bar" indicated how fully the administration's "liberal idea" had prevailed, even though his proposal to reorganize the tribunal had not been the method by which this was accomplished.

Mr. Roosevelt named no names, but newsmen recalled that Frank J. Hogan, president of the American Bar Association, had declared not long ago that recent judicial construction had brought most, if not all activities of the nation within the ambit of federal control.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke last night in a formal statement issued in connection with signing of a bill creating an administrative office to handle local affairs of all federal courts and to keep tabs on the condition of their dockets.

URGENT COURT PROCTOR

Mr. Roosevelt spoke last night in a formal statement issued in connection with signing of a bill creating an administrative office to handle local affairs of all federal courts and to keep tabs on the condition of their dockets.

In his 1937 message to congress on the judiciary, he urged creation of a court "proctor" to perform the latter function and also reorganization plan which set off one of the greatest political struggles since the Civil War.

"It is worth recording," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that, August 7, 1938, deserves special recognition because it marks the final objective of the comprehensive proposals for judicial reorganization which I made to the congress on February 8, 1937."

"The country is naturally concerned about the attainment of the per objectives rather than any one

A Valuable Insurance

Among students of world affairs Dr. E. P. Dean, secretary of the American Council on Foreign Affairs, holds a place of signal distinction. That is why special note should be attached to his assurance in an Edmonton interview that if the fortunes of war are going against England and France his country will swiftly grant aid in its power to the victor.

Dr. Dean does not feel the defeat of the president on the neutrality bill is a sign that the United States wants to crawl into a hermit's cave and let the rest of the world settle its problems as it chooses. Rather does he argue that Mr. Roosevelt suffered that defeat due to political reasons. The Republican party, and certain dissident Democrats, thought the neutrality issue a good time to set the president back on his heels and at once proceeded to do so. The deeper impulses and underlying loyalties of the American people are not reflected in the vote of the Senate committee that rejected the proposals of the president and Mr. Cordell Hull, nor in the rather acrid scribbles that marked the debate in the House of Representatives.

Doubtless Dr. Dean is right when he says the United States will not pledge itself in advance to support Britain and France, though the American people themselves know they likely will do so when the emergency comes. Such an abrupt change of national policy may not be feasible. After all, it was only recently that England lost its right to give specific guarantees against aggression in Eastern Europe. One has no option but to hope that the moral revolution among sweeping over America will prevail, while there yet is time, to marshal effective American support behind the threatened cause of democracy and human dignity.

For it can never be forgotten that if the United States did make it clear, so that even Hitler and Mussolini could understand, that in any way of aggression they started they would find themselves the first gun have to face the terrific strength of the United States as well as the aroused resistance of France and England, all the Fascist cannons might remain silent.

America holds the key to world peace. As long as President Roosevelt is at the helm, democratic nations can feel assured that the arguments of humanity and the interests of world peace are certain to find in him a consummate advocate and a noble guardian.

The Orders Don't Go

Japan has served notice on other foreign governments that three more Chinese ports are to be blockaded, and that it will not be responsible if warships of any of these governments suffer damage because they stay in these ports. To which the response will be the same as when a similar warning was given that a couple of other Chinese ports were to be blockaded. Japan will be told that its disclaimer to the contrary, it will be held accountable if damage is done to the foreign warships.

In no far as China is concerned, Japan has made itself a law unto itself, thrown treaties to the winds, ignored the Kellogg pact and a flock of other solemn agreements, and is massacring, pillaging and dictating at pleasure. Its "warnings" to foreign governments are nothing but impudent attempts to treat their rights in the same free-handed way. That it will get away with this there is no prospect whatever. The warships which are being harbored ports if their presence seems to be needed there, and will stay as long as it is required.

If British or French ships are sunk or damaged in the free-boating operations, nothing may happen at present, because these powers are involved elsewhere. But care will be taken. It may be assumed, that Japanese airmen will not unload any bombs on United States warships, for that country happens not to have committed itself elsewhere to interfere with prompt action in response. Bullies always prefer to pick on those who are not in position to fight back.

Scotsmen, Please Note

A few days ago a little tribute ran on this page in honor of Baron Tweedsmuir in which the hope was voiced that he again might serve for a five year term as Canada's governor-general. In the course of the tribute he was called a "great Englishman." A few Scotch patriots thought this a slight on the sacred name of John Buchan and promptly called up to say so.

Well, the description of Baron Tweedsmuir as an Englishman was done deliberately, in the belief, for which there is ample warrant, that that is the proper generic term to be applied to any citizen of the British Isles.

Nelson did not say "Britain expects every man to do his duty." (By the way, he really said "Nelson expects every man to do his duty.") It was only by a splendid after-thought that he changed the first draft of his inspiring admonition to its present form. Scott is called the greatest historical novelist in English literature, and who can deny that Burns is one of the most precious gems in the rich crown of English poetry?

To be called a great Englishman is to be admitted to the most gallant company that is to be found anywhere on earth, and a tribute that John Buchan many a time has been honored to accept.

And now may the phone-chains ring as Scotsmen tell us that the only reason England is so great is that the sons of Scotia have had the generosity to leave their own country in order to run it for Englishmen, "that inferior breed."

Six years ago today, August 8, 1933, in his report, introduced a union of all the British American colonies and 15 years before Canadian statesmen gathered at Charlottetown and Quebec to plan for a union, Lord John Russell, the great British statesman, made it evident that in his opinion, nothing but a union could solve the Canadian problem. So that to effect this, a separation of the two Canadas were necessary, he could see no objection to it. His wish in forming such a union would be "to bring about such a state of things that if we should lose our North American provinces they might be able to rejoin the mother country, and instead of being merged in the American Union."

Both British statesmen saw, however, that a union in name alone would be senseless and, as the words of Earl Grey: "If this union is to be aimed at, the first step should be to undertake the construction of the railway from Quebec to Halifax, and the second, the most important and contribute more than anything else we could do to bind the colonies to each other and to the mother country."

In the end, Confederation came before the railway. The union of 1867 was followed by the Intercolonial, but it was not until 1876 that the railway was completed. By the British provinces were bound together by sentiment nine years before they were united by the iron rail and the steam locomotive.

I wish to remind the world that the Chinese have been a peaceful people for over 5,000 years.—Mrs. Chang Kai-shek.

The Passing Show

On August 10 in Berlin, few beauty courses for women are to be opened by the Nazi "Strength through Joy" organization. While the courses are designed for all German women, they are specially directed to those over 40. This is to fulfill the precept of Dr. Robert Ley, leader of the German Labor Front, "Our women shall be beautiful."

Beauty for the Nazis is not a matter of the skin, care of the hair and feet, and mastery of complete relaxation. By the expenditure of two minutes of time each day and two marks a month for materials, the women of Germany are to become and remain beautiful.

What a very good work, and how admirable for emulation! The beauty parlor has abolished the homely lookers of our youth. You never see ugly girl nowadays. Sunk are not so bad and the others are better. Dentistry, cosmetics and attention to principles of color and form have worked the change.

Beauty is more than skin deep, as the chap found who tried skinning his bride. After the glacial assessments of youth have blossomed into mature judgment, most men come to a joyous spirit in a shapely healthy body than mere perfection of facial feature. I knew one woman of charm whose face in repose was plain and ugly. A change like sunlight came when she was married.

REAL "SECRETS" OF YOUTHFULNESS usually appear like a dark plain came when she was married. And the power on. Instantly she became possessed of charm. What might not a course of beauty culture have done for her in the off months!

Lessons in charm and poise are invaluable for women over forty. When the pretenses of youth are dropped, the face in repose is plain and ugly. A change like sunlight came when she was married.

A Great Statesman

By THOMAS WATLING

OTTAWA.—One hundred and two years ago, William Lyon Mackenzie, the Canadian rebel, hid in an old windmill near Prescott in the river St. Lawrence.

Around the countryside were posters offering 1000 pounds reward for him dead or alive. In the words near by Major King of His Majesty's Royal Horse Artillery wheeled his guns into position and prepared to bombard the old mill, suspecting the rebel was hiding there.

In Toronto today, Right Honourable William Lyon Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, commemorates his twentieth anniversary as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario.

The celebration is possible because Major King did not carry out his bombardment. The rebel in the mill was Premier King's maternal grandfather, the artillery officer his paternal grandfather. . . . Rebel Mackenzie migrated to Canada from his native town of Dundee. Major King left Aberdeen for Canada about the same time.

In 1837 William Lyon Mackenzie rebelled. In 1837 William Lyon Mackenzie made a pilgrimage to Dundee and Aberdeen to visit the scenes of his grandfather's youth. Dundee gave him a lunch and Aberdeen gave him the freedom of the city.

The present Prime Minister of Canada is the son of John King, a University professor. He became a Bachelor of Arts in 1895, Bachelor of Laws in 1896, and a Master of Arts in 1897, all at Toronto University. Then became Master of Arts at Harvard in 1898. He felt himself then qualified to become a reporter on the Toronto Globe, but even though he had been educated by degrees he was fired off hand. Sir William Mackenzie King, then a reporter on the Toronto Labor at the age of 26. He attracted the attention of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who took the young economist under his wing.

Eight years passed. He could not forget his brief interview with journalism and started the Labor Gazette, official organ of the department which still in publication, the primary authority on Canadian labor questions.

Mr. King then resigned from the civil service to become a full-time journalist. He promptly made him master of labor and two years later, in 1911, he accompanied Sir Wilfrid in defeat at the reciprocity election.

Then came the war. It found him with an aged mother and an invalid sister to support. His deep insight into labor problems opened the way for him to serve. The United States had not yet entered the war but was rendering invaluable assistance to the allies through shipbuilding and supplies. Serious strikes slowed up the Canadian war effort in the munitions industry. The Canadian labor authority who had an amazing record for conciliatory disposition was asked to go over the States and mediate between the men and the companies. In rapid turn he settled shipbuilding, steel, coal and other strikes. The president of Bethlehem Steel, E. G. Corcoran, says: "At a crucial time when we were contending with an unprecedented industrial crisis, your counsel and advice on the construction and development of a plan which when installed proved most conducive to promoting peace and harmony between the men and the company, resulting in the obtaining of the maximum efficiency in the production of war munitions, constituted, I feel, a real service not only to this country but to the Allies during the war."

He gave his services as an expert to the General Electric Company, who was also producing war supplies. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., the International Harvester Co., Consolidated Coal Co., the Great Western Sugar Co., are among other of the large industries of the United States engaged at the time upon the production of war materials and essential supplies. These companies have received valuable services rendered by Mr. King during the period of the war and to the betterment of the world.

Mr. King's record, although for a generation he has been accused of failing to do his bit. His war efforts are all recorded in the comprehensive statistics which were written from day throughout his whole public career. These locked books contain full refutation of the insinuations against him, but he refuses to make their contents public.

Mr. King never married. Life centred largely around the mother he worshipped. In his study at Laurier House a portrait of a white-haired lady, calm and peaceful with the beatitude of age. When she died no other woman took her place.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier died, the Liberal party called a convention. The veteran finance minister, Hon. W. S. Fielding, was the senior statesman, but his support of conscription and desertion of Laurier failed to get him the support of the Quebec Liberals. The same factor brought about the rejection also of Hon. George P. Graham, another of Laurier's outstanding ministers. So Mr. King became leader of the party.

With the next two years and then government disintegrated and in the 1921 election Premier Meighen was defeated. At the same time the Liberals under Laurier had been unable to get a clear majority owing to the injection of a third party, the Progressives, led by Mr. T. A. C. Crerar, who had been minister of agriculture in the Union government and was now leading a farmer movement.

Mr. Meighen was only able to win fifty seats. Mr. King 117, but there were 16 Progressives and three Labor, which gave Mr. Crerar the balance of power.

The next four years Mr. King had no majority, but with mature diplomacy gained the support of the progressives, and carried on the government. The Liberals and the Conservatives gained out the Progressives still supporting Mr. King gave him continued leadership of the House.

But this time Hon. H. H. Stevens uncovered a scandalous situation in the department of Customs and Excise which alienated the Progressive support of the Liberals and Mr. King resigned to appear to the country.

There is no doubt that with the customs scandal.

Public Conventions Editor, Bulletin: The Edmonton exhibition for 1939 has passed and a great success it was! The public of northern Alberta appreciate the good work of the officials of their exhibition and will realize that this exhibition is, and has been, conducted by a group of business men. Great credit is due to all the officials.

I notice they plan to further improve the grounds by erecting a more suitable grandstand, which is very commendable, but there is one matter of public lavatories. The few provided are hidden from public sight and when one goes to find them are a real disappointment. I noticed in the men's toilet a notice to the effect that the attendant does not receive any salary—suggesting, of course, that the public should donate a nickel or dime when the facilities were used. I think this is very wrong. The attendant is a very commendable, but there is one matter of public lavatories. One hundred and fifty persons attended the Masonic banquet held at the Lake Saskatchewan Hotel recently. A popular annual fall Masons' dinner from many points in the district. W. W. S. Kemm, Calgary; George Moore, Calgary; Captain R. E. Campbell, Wembley; S. Harris, Lake Prairie; and James McFarlane, Lake Louise, each gave a short address.

Pictures of the Royal Visit to Canada were shown by Constable Lynas. A delightful musical program was interspersed with the addresses. Contributing artists were: J. W. Pickett, Mrs. E. C. Law, Mrs. W. Pearcey, Miss Olive Kowensky, Grande Prairie; Miss Tanhauser, J. Moore, Wembley. Selections on the program, played by W. Sutherland, Calgary, were much enjoyed.

WATER SYSTEM IS INSTALLED

Workers recently completed laying a pipeline through the southern portion of Goldfields. The present addition gives the settlement a water supply with approximately 1,000 feet of pipeline serving 100 families and business places. Householders are charged $1 per month for water, business firms $2 per month.

Additional board walks have been laid through the main section of town giving the settlement a total of 3,000 feet of sidewalk. In one or two cases residents refused to pay taxes and asked the amount levied to extend sidewalk to their homes.

A. W. Walkey, federal government engineer is here to oversee construction on the new dock which is to be built at Goldfields this fall. R. C. W. Wells, Wilks contractor, is also here and will be in charge of construction.

Actual work will commence about Wednesday, August 9. Timbers are being shipped from McCollins' sawmill at Embarras portage on the Athabasca river.

The mill is located about 140 miles from the settlement. McCollins' sawmill is owned by J. B. McCollins, who is hauling the logs by scow.

The beauty of the country is attracting more and more people to the settlement. The water supply is being laid out in the form of a main line.

WAR AND A WOMAN

By BETTY WALLACE

The morning, Maria tonight there's the Captain's party for you. I-I hardly see you now—
"But Jimmy won't be there either, Mother."

"One of you must be present," her mother said. "We can't let the Captain's party be without you."

"I can't go to Mother's," Linda whispered. "I can't even take a taxi."

"Oh, my dear, I merely meant that there was no need of both the prospective bride and groom being present from a party in their honor."

"Linda didn't want Jimmy to stand on ceremony, but the Captain..."

"Oh, Mother! Linda and her father may be as close as much closer than ordinary."

"A plane," Linda murmured. "I must go."

"But there are no regular planes," her mother said. "If you want to go, you must go by taxi."

"I'll go by taxi," Linda said. "I'll go by taxi."

and Receiving Bribe Of Two Bottles Rum

Vancouver, Aug. 8.—Police Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson committed Constables Hugh Hamilton and Eldon Pickerton, of the city police force, for trial on charges of demanding and receiving a bribe of two bottles of rum.

The charges were laid as a result of information provided by Mayor J. L. Taylor, chairman of the city police commission, who presided over a public inquiry into the activities of the city police in the past year.

During the inquiry, Mayor Taylor stated that the constables had demanded a bribe of two bottles of rum in exchange for their services.

Buck Rides Again

Comedian Jack Benny has had the ups and downs of a long career in the entertainment field, but its probably the first time he has ridden pillion with an Indian chief up front! The well-known radio and film star is holidaying at Banff Springs hotel, where this picture was taken, and at Chateau Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies.

Visiting Canada

Here for a few months' visit to eastern Canada, the Earl and Countess of Northesk are seen as they arrived at Quebec aboard the Empress of Australia. Regular visitors to Canada, they will visit friends in several eastern cities.

Queen Shenandoah XVI

Phyllis, black-eyed, brunette, Genevieve Garner, only granddaughter of Vice-President Garner, has been named "Queen Shenandoah XVI," to reign over the famed Winchester, Va., apple blossom festivities. She is a senior at Arlington Hall Junior College, Arlington, Va.

Anti-British Feeling High in China

"Down with Britain; rebuild China," read some of the posters carried by Chinese residents of Tsing-tao during the Japanese-inspired anti-British parade recently. This feeling ran so high that many parades ran amok, doing considerable damage to the British property in the city. This high feeling among some of the Chinese is adding to the Far East problems of Britain, faced with blockades in other cities. Note the similarity of the caps worn by the Chinese members of the "New People's Society." At right, the military caps of Japanese troops.

Mechanized Guns

Here are some samples of mechanized artillery which recently came into the ownership of the Canadian militia. They are tired with rubber instead of steel rims, and the tires are said to be puncture-proof to shrapnel. The guns are shown crossing a light girder bridge.

Next Little Stranger

War babies, born during a gas attack, will start life bundled in this all-enveloping gas mask recently designed by Dr. Le Mee in Paris. A baby's respiration is too weak to operate a regular mask, so, as the nurse above demonstrates, the parent or attendant will breathe for the infant and herself through the communicating tube.

After Harvest—What?

With scores of thousands of potential soldiers busy on the farms, the military axiom that peasants can't be sent to war before the crops are in promises Europe a respite from war scares. In Germany, even farming takes on a military aspect, as seen above, where Labor Service men in uniform caps harvest a bumper wheat crop.

Summer-Winter Flight

Oldest and youngest persons ever to fly to Europe were 14-year-old Ann Register, left, of Jacksonville, Fla., and 79-year-old Ernest Haywood, right, of Raleigh, N.C., recent passengers aboard the Titanic Clipper. Mr. Haywood took the trip to complete a round-the-world tour started in 1907 and interrupted by the burning of the dirigible Hindenburg.

Japs Riot as Conference Opens

While Sir Robert Craigie, British ambassador, and Japanese Foreign Minister Hiroshi Arima seated themselves at a conference table in Tokyo, top, in an effort to solve the Tientsin concession problem, thousands of Japanese stormed the iron gates of the British embassy in a gigantic anti-British demonstration, bottom. The demonstration staged a riot outside the embassy, fighting with police in an effort to climb the walls.

Stop Japan

Mrs. George A. Fitch of Pasadena, Calif., for 20 years a missionary in China, pictured in Washington as she urged Congress to embargo war supplies to Japan. She declared a European war could be averted by stopping Japan, most vulnerable arm of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis.

'Unsinkable' Ship

Called "unsinkable," the $10,000,000 S.S. "Panama" is shown in New York prior to making her maiden voyage in the coastal service. An advanced principle of hullhead design not only permits her to stay afloat even with much of her hold filled with water, but restricts flow to a small area. Owned by the Panama Railroad, the "safest" ship is the first of her kind.

Scouts See Troops at Play

About 4,000 Rover Scouts representing 42 nations assembled before the high officials of Scoutdom recently when the World Rover Scout Meeting was held in the grounds of Monach Castle, near Clief, Perthshire, Scotland. Watching the maneuvers, from left to right, are: M. Howie, Scout Camp Chief; Prince Gustaf Adolf, of Sweden; Lord Sumner, Deputy Chief Scout; and Colonel John Colville, Scotland's Secretary of State.
